COLD AND RAIN HAMPER RESCUE WORK IN ITALY

Renewal of Seismic Disturbances Adds to Terror of Inhabitants

THOUSANDS BURIED ALIVE

Government to appropriate $1,000,000 for relief of the homeless

ROME, Jan. 17.—A renewal of seismic disturbances early today served to add to the terror of the people in parts of the district that was visited by the heavy earthquake last Wednesday.

Although the shocks were light buildings which had been weakened and were tottering from the effects of the first disturbance, were completely ruined. In Avezzano and Sora, the towns which suffered most from the disaster, the people left their temporary shelters and took refuge in open places.
Rain and extremely cold weather in some parts of the district are hampering badly the work of rescue. This is particularly true of Sora, where a cold frost fell Saturday night and today. In many of the towns, which were leveled by the earthquake, it is feared there are still living persons beneath the debris and that unless they are extricated soon, they will perish.

Latest reports received in Rome increase, rather than decrease, the aggregate of the casualties and the extent of the damage done. In the department of the Abruzzi alone, it is estimated that 20,000 persons met death.

Government Appropriates $1,000,000.
The Italian government has appropriated $1,000,000 for the relief work and King Victor Emmanuel has donated $50,000 for the aid of children abandoned by their parents or made orphans by the disaster. Relief supplies are pouring into the stricken districts, and it is believed that shortly there will be sufficient food supplies everywhere to alleviate temporarily the distress of the people. Trainloads of timber also are being dispatched to the destroyed towns for the erection of huts.

San Atollio has 200 dead and 500 injured; Mirino, 1,000 dead; Canistro, 500 injured; Cervaro, 300 victims; Borgo, 100 dead; and Valle Roveto, 1,500. At Castello Rotondo almost the entire population escaped because they were working in the fields when the shock occurred.

Practical appeals for help have been received from Porellaltri, 3,500 feet above sea level on Mount Arango, eight miles from Tagliacozzo. The village was almost destroyed and the survivors say they are perishing of cold and hunger.

Mountain Cracked Open.
In the highway near Ortucchio, the earth has opened, causing an immense chasm filled with water, the depth of which is unknown.

The terrific force of the earthquake cracked the mountains near Lugo.
Huge pieces of rock, each weighing several tons, tumbled down the hillside, burying the cottages of peasants, killing cattle and obstructing the roads.
Mont Pizzodetta, 4,500 feet high, became Pulcinella and Roccaro, became two parts by an immense fissure which is visible at a great distance.

The Duke of the Abruzzi is contemplating the distribution of relief in the earthquake zone. He goes from place to place without escort, refusing even to allow his friends to know where he is. In many places he organized the rescue work and left without the survivors having any idea who he was.
The government has appropriated $1,000,000 to relieve suffering.

Winter Adds to Misery.
Severe winter weather has added to the misery of the survivors, many of whom are without shelter of any kind.
Urgent appeals for food are coming from many places.

Most of the dead at Ortucchio are women and children who were buried under the ruins of a church which afterward took fire from small earthen stoves, which women here carry to heat them when. Many of those who were buried alive, despite frantic efforts by survivors to rescue them.

Reports have been received here of the excellent work done by a relief expedition organized by the American Baptist church and led by Dr. Whiting Hill. Help was sent to remote spots which were difficult to reach. A large quantity of provisions was distributed at Ortucchio, where the population was starving.

12,000 Buried by Debris.
AVEZZANO, Italy, Jan. 17.—Twelve thousand bodies it is estimated, are buried under the fallen walls of this earthquake-ravaged city.
Rescuers believe there still are manning beneath the tons of debris and desperate efforts are being made to rescue them.

Most of the irregular masses of stone and brick have been touched with pick or shovel. This is the fault of no one, but it would take 1,000 workmen several days to turn over and examine what has been slowly quarried and built up during centuries. Capt. Pirani Vetter, who has charge of the relief work here, announced that there are 10,000 dead in Avezzano, Capelle, Magliano and in the vicinity in this immediate district. It is midnight Saturday, only 500 bodies have been recovered.

MEXICO CHOOSES PRESIDENT; GUTIERREZ FIRES

General Garza, Villa Leader, Becomes Ninth Ruler in Four Years

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED

Northern Chief Hastens to the Capital, Break With Zapata Reported

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 17.—Gen. Roque Gonzalez Garza was last night named provisional president of Mexico by the convention in session here, over which he has presided. The former provisional president, General Gutierrez, together with Generals Blanco, Ruelas and Jose
morning at 4 o'clock for Puebla.

Martial law has been declared by General Garza, and the city is being patrolled by mounted police.

In electing Garza, the convention declared itself to be supreme and, until a new president is elected, has assumed all the legislative, executive, and judicial powers.

Only Temporary Chief?
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Gen.
Roque Gonzalez Garza, one of General Villa's principal officers, today is the executive head of that portion of Mexican territory controlled by the Villa-Zapata forces.

Advices to this effect reached the state department today from American Consul Sullivan. Details of the terms of the office which Garza will serve were lacking tonight, but the general belief in Mexican circles here was that he had been appointed temporarily to meet an emergency created by the sudden departure of General Gutierrez and members of his cabinet from Mexico City.

The belief was expressed in many quarters that the convention now in session in Mexico City, over which General Garza has been presiding, designated him to exercise the executive power until a complete agreement can be secured with all elements on the man who is to fill the unexpected term of President Diaz and Madero, which would end on December 31 of this year. Gen. Felipe Angeles and Dr. Miguel Silva, former governor of Michoacan, are looked upon as the two most prominent candidates for the office, which is to be known as "provisional president," the successor to be elected for the full constitutional term of six years.

Declined Restricted Post.
The reasons for the departure of Gutierrez are unknown here, but the belief prevails that he declined to be continued in office under the restrictions suggested by the Zapatistas.
Under these articles, two-thirds of the convention could remove the provisional president; he could take no action of importance without the consent of his cabinet, and the convention, being designated as the supreme executive and judicial body, was to be consulted in all questions of major interest.

A copy of a statement issued by General Garza throws some light on the circumstances under which he took command of the situation. In this statement, Garza announced that Gutierrez had issued orders for a large part of the government forces to evacuate the capital. In view of the fact that this would leave the city without any defense, Garza said he had assumed command of the situation and was depending upon the troops of the north and the Zapatistas for defense, all of which he added, were under the orders of the convention. He announced his intention of establishing martial law and threatened summary execution to any disturbers of the peace. According to the Garza statement, Gutierrez and some of his cabinet officers left Mexico City Friday night.

The belief in official quarters was that Garza as chairman of the convention called an extraordinary session, which ratified his assumption of power.

Villa Hastens to Capital.
EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 17.—Roque Gonzalez Garza has been named provisional president of Mexico to replace Eulalio Gutierrez, appointed to that office only last week by the Villa-Zapata convention. This was learned today in most authentic reports from Mexico City, which, however, did not make known the reason for the sudden change of the chief executive, which was made in an extraordinary session of the convention. General Villa, with all the troops he hastily could assemble, is hurrying to the capital from Aguascalientes.

The escape from the capital of Provisional President Gutierrez was resulted by an attempt of the Zapata faction to assassinate him and his cabinet members, according to reports received here tonight. Gutierrez had been reinstated last week on certain understandings, among which were that if he moved his official residence he automatically would become in-vulnerable. The reported attempt on his life which occasioned his flight resulted.

According to all official reports there made here tonight, Gen. Felipe Angeles or Gen. Francisco Villa will become the next provisional president. Andreas, an ex-federal artillery officer, is also named.

ALL SOULS CHURCH URGES CARLSON TO RETAIN TYNAN

Congregation Will Ask Governor to Keep Warden as Head of Colorado Penitentiary

Without a dissenting voice, the congregation of All Souls Unitarian church voted last night to send to Governor George A. Carlson a communication strongly urging him to retain Thomas Tynan as warden of the Colorado State penitentiary. The Rev. Thomas Salter Riddell, pastor of the church, in speaking on the resolution offered by Mrs. Jennie Shelley Boyd, said:

"Senator Helen Ross Robinson, who spoke at the church last evening and Thomas Tynan, in my opinion, are the greatest people in Colorado today. Senator Robinson has led to fight that specter that bears its name head up in Denver, that disgusting newspaper that is a disgrace not only to Colorado but to civilization. And now Thomas Tynan is about to be placed under fire.

"Warden Tynan did more to advance Colorado when in the east this state was considered the sink-hole of iniquity than any other man of his organization. He has done more for our convicts than any other man in America. And now he is about to be dismissed—and, of all reasons, just because of a change in administration.
It's a disgrace."

The resolution, passed without a dissenting vote, is as follows:

"Inasmuch as Thomas Tynan, warden of the state penitentiary, has rendered a lasting service to the inmates of the penitentiary by his wise and human guidance of them into useful activities, has gained for Colorado a national reputation in the movement and treatment of her prisoners, and by recognizing the man in the criminal has helped humanity toward justice."

Be it resolved by the congregation of All Souls Unitarian church of Colorado Springs, that we most earnestly urge Governor Carlson to retain Thomas Tynan, warden of the state penitentiary.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS GETS LAST SNOW IN YEARS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 17.— Southwest Texas witnessed the last snow storm in many years today.
Several places it was the heaviest fall in 25 years. In Bandera, Edwards and Kendall counties, nearly an inch of snow fell and late tonight was still falling.

Upper left, Gen. Roque Gonzalez Garza, Mexico's latest president; lower
right, Gen. Emiliano Zapata, southern chieftain, with whom Villa is said to have broken.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS A GRANDFATHER

Son Born to Mr. and Mrs.
Francis B. Sayre in the White House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A son was born at the White house today to Mrs.
Francis Bowes Sayre, President Wilson's second daughter. Mrs. Sayre and the child were reported to be doing well.

The child was born at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, but the fact was not formally announced until 6 o'clock, when Secretary Tammaly gave out the following statement:

"Dr. Grayson, the White house physician, states that at 4 o'clock Mrs.
Sayre gave birth to a fine boy. Everything went perfectly and both are doing well."

The boy weighed seven and a half pounds.

President Overjoyed.
President Wilson made no effort to conceal his joy when informed that the child was a boy and that Mrs. Sayre was well. His face was wreathed in smiles for hours afterward. It was his first grandchild, and the president had no boys of his own.

Mr. Sayre, who is assistant to President Garfield of Williams college, was not at the White house when his son was born. Dr. Grayson reached him on the telephone at 5 o'clock this afternoon and he arrived here late tonight.

The president did not go to church this morning and Mrs. Sayre's sisters, Mrs. William G. McAdoo and Miss Margaret Wilson, with their cousin, Miss Helen Woodhouse Jones, remained at the White house throughout the day.

A corps of special nurses were in attendance.

Name Not Yet Chosen.
A name had not been selected tonight, but it was expected that the child would be named for his grandfather. The christening is expected to be held in the White house before the return of Mr. Sayre to his home in Williamstown. Congratulations poured into the White house tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayre were married at the White house November 25, 1910.
After a honeymoon in Europe, they went to Washington to make their home. Mrs. Sayre has been visiting at the White house since Christmas.

Ten other children—six girls and four boys—have been born in the White house, most of them being the grandchildren or granddaughters of presidents.

Denver Stock Show Will Open Tonight

DENVER, Jan. 17.—The National Horse show and winter fair will open here tomorrow night. The show was arranged following the cancellation of the annual show of the Western Livestock association, which was called off because of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease in other sections.

Show horses from many states will compete and the list of gaited saddle horses is unusually large. Judging in certain classes will begin in the morning.

Three-six couples of Colorado have placed exhibits in the state agricultural show, which is being held at the state fair.

Another feature of the fair is a horse show in which 25 babies have thus far been entered.

ABSENTEE OWNERSHIP IS SCORED BY WALSH

Describes Conditions in Colorado Where Company
Rule Only Law

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Frank P.
Walsh, chairman of the federal industrial relations commission, arrived in this city today to go over data which will be used in connection with the hearings before the commission beginning here tomorrow in its investigation into the operation of the great philanthropic foundations of the country and the underlying causes for existing industrial unrest.

The data submitted to Mr. Walsh was gathered by a corps of investigators who have been working here for a fortnight gathering information regarding the philanthropic and industrial activities of the men who have been designated as witnesses. These include John D. Rockefeller Jr., J. P.
Morgan, Andrew Carnegie, George W.
Perkins and Jacob H. Schiff.

In an address tonight under the auspices of the forum committee of the East Side Neighborhood association, Mr. Walsh described conditions in Colorado, where he said employees of the coal companies were compelled to submit to company rule. This, he said, is a "development of foreign ownership" and upon this topic, as well as the subject of the benevolent foundations, the commission will hold its hearings in this city. A report to congress will be made on August 23, he stated.

Regarding absentee ownership of corporations he said:

"It is the only concern of the directors of these corporations to count their dividends, what do they say to the atrocious actions of their managers? Do they intentionally disregard the laws of nature which give to men and women the simple right of earning their living by the sweat of their brows? If they do, legislation is needed to change their tactics."

The fundamental causes of discontent and unemployment, in my mind, are wages and its resulting evils. All the evils that beset the body, politics, are economic ones, and it is our purpose to show forth to the world the differences between wages and earnings."

Suggestions to alleviate the situation of industrial repression and unrest made by a speaker were restoration to the people of the natural resources of which they have, he said, been wrongfully deprived, establishment of an administrative board, where grievances could be redressed, of a minimum wage law and an eight-hour law on the railroads, and a minimum wage of $10 weekly for telephone operators.

In connection with the subject of benevolent foundations, Mr. Walsh questioned the advisability of allowing a group of men to have the spending of $10,000,000 a year, which is exempt from taxation, without some form of supervision, without some federal supervision, or held his report to congress, probably would advocate the establishment of a federal foundation.

RUSSIANS PURSUING
TURKS IN CAUCASUS

PETROGRAD, Jan. 17.—The following official statement has been issued regarding the operations of the Russian troops:

"Our troops of the army in the Caucasus are successfully pursuing their offensive in the region of Kara'agan (in Turkish Armenia). On January 15 they made more than 1,000 prisoners and captured a large quantity of munitions."

On the other fronts the actions are quiet."

RUSSIANS POURING INTO AUSTRIA-HUNGARY FROM EAST; BREAK DEFENSES

May Force Roumania to Enter Conflict on Side of the Allied Powers, Relief of Experts

Official German Statement Estimates Losses of the Allies in Four Weeks to Be 150,000; French Make Advances Along the Coast of Flanders and in the Vosges

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Central News says:

"An official communication issued at 6 o'clock this evening says the Eleventh Turkish army corps has been exterminated near Kara-Urgan."

LONDON, Jan. 17.—While the main Russian army has been busy repelling what Grand Duke Nicholas, in his official report, describes as a series of violent attacks by Field Marshal von Hindenburg to break his way through to Warsaw, other Russian forces have stormed and taken Kirlibaba pass, on the borders of Transylvania, and have made further progress in their advance along the right bank of the Vistula toward the German frontier.

The Germans in force have delivered seven successive attacks, which developed into desperate bayonet fighting, on the Russian lines on the left bank of the Vistula, and have succeeded in taking one of the Russian advance trenches.

Further south there have been similar attacks, in each case preceded by heavy artillery engagements. The Russians have succeeded in silencing the heavy Austrian guns, which, from the banks of the Danube, have been bombarding the town of Tarnow.

May Force Roumania into War.
The capture of Kirlibaba pass, through which roads lead into the heart of Transylvania, is likely to have a political as well as a military effect. It will possibly hasten the action of Roumania and will compel the German allies to send troops for the defense of eastern Hungary.

With the retirement of Count von Berchtold, the former Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, who is said to have favored another expedition against Serbia, and because of the greater influence of the Hungarians in the councils of the empire, by reason of the appointment of Borjan Buriak at the head of the foreign department, the troops which were destined for the Serbian operations are likely to be diverted toward the new Russian thrust against Hungary.

In the west there has been some brisk fighting at many points. The French claim to have made further progress along the coast of Flanders, but not to the extent which they have been credited with by unofficial reports. Attacks and counter-attacks also have prevalled in the region of Arras and in the Aisne valley south of Laon, but apparently without either side making any advance.

The French progress, however, according to their statement, continues east of Rheims and in the Vosges, despite a heavy snowstorm. In the Argonne the Germans claim to have improved their position.

An official German statement estimates the losses of the allies since they commenced their offensive, four weeks ago, at 150,000, including 20,000 killed and more than 17,000 prisoners.

An interesting account from German sources of the battle north of Soissons says that the French defeat was the result of a surprise attack which the French expected an attack on their left. The Germans attacked on the right and center and drove the French completely out of their positions north of the Aisne, which it had taken them a month to capture.

Earl Grey, the former governor general of Canada, in reviewing a brigade of the Canadian contingent today told them they would soon be among of the front.

German Statement
BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The following official statement was issued here this afternoon:

"Only artillery duels have taken place on both sides on Flanders. Near Bligny, east of Arras, we blew up the enemy's buildings and took some prisoners. On other parts of the front artillery duels of varying intensity have taken place, but in the static and inflexible areas nothing of note has occurred."

We make some progress in the Argonne and have taken a small prisoners and the entire front German attacking the positions on the east side are quiet.

About four weeks ago the order for a general attack, which had been decided upon by the French staff in time in December was given. The attempted attack of the enemy in the western theater were met by the new army with our part. The enemy's attacks brought him no success. The north of the Aisne, and that afternoon the entire front of the plateau was in German hands.

The German artillery is in a position to command the Aisne valley.

The losses of the enemy during this period, counted by us, amount to 20,000 killed and about 17,000 prisoners.
He will now know from experience, that together with the wounded, his losses are in proportion of 1 to 4, apart from the number of sick and missing, the grand total being 150,000 men. Our total losses for the same period do not amount to one-quarter of that number."

French Statement
PARIS, Jan. 17.—The following official statement of the progress of the war was given out in Paris this afternoon:

We have continued to progress in the region of Neuport and Longbaerzede along a depression about 200 yards in length. Our artillery forced the Germans to evacuate their positions in the Great Dune district Roubaix, which lies to the north of the latter and bombarded the enemy's works in this part of the battle front and to the south of St. Quentin.

In the region of Ypres, as in Chat

GERMANS CONTROL THE AISNE VALLEY

Gained Notable Victory From French by a Surprise Attack

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 17.—The London, Emperor William, who with nearly 100,000 men, took the town of Soissons, in which the French were driven back across the river Aisne, declared on the field General von Loebow and Lieutenant General Wismar, who commanded the victorious troops. On General von Loebow he bestowed the Order of Merit and on Lieutenant General Wismar a commandship of the Order of the House of Hohenzol-lern.

According to the German accounts of the fighting, the French during the last month had occupied in the region of Soissons a network of trenches on the right bank of the Aisne, which extended away to the north. On January 13, the French committed a heavy bombardment, in which the Germans suffered severely, some of their trenches being wrecked and their manning seriously hurt.

The following day the French attacked and penetrated into the German trenches, but were driven back after a day's fighting. On January 14, the French followed day and night until January 15, the famous battle of Soissons, when the German began a counter attack and the French were driven back from the German trenches and also their own and were forced back to the Aisne. The French then

WILSON APPROVES ARMAMENT LIMIT

Approves Support of Newly Organized Society in New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—President Wilson has written Woodrow Garrison, president of the United States, expressing his approval of the American League to Limit Armaments, which its organization is based. The president's letter, given out here tonight, reads:

"Let me acknowledge the receipt of your letter enclosing a copy of a resolution adopted by the American League to Limit Armaments and express my pleasure that the league should thus support me in the views expressed in my annual message."

"With warm thanks to you and all concerned, believe me, sincerely yours, WOODROW WILSON."

The resolution mentioned, it is recalled in the announcement, declared that "war experience abroad in destroying the reputation of war exists in the mind of the people, and that to increase our own armaments now would be to forfeit our moral leadership."

The American League to Limit Armaments has opened offices here. Its first public mass meeting will be in Cooper Union on January 26.

MEXICAN NACO NOW IS FREE OF SOLDIERS

Last of Carranza's Forces Leave; U. S. Troops on Patrol Duty

NACU, Ariz., Jan. 17.—Naco, Sonora, the scene of an intermittent siege for three months by Governor Maytorena's Villista forces, was evacuated early today by the Carranza troops under Gen. P. Elias Calles.

A company of 300 troops started on its eastward march to Agua Prieta, while the wounded, the women and children, and the stores and household goods of the garrison were loaded on cars and left later in bond, for their journey through the United States to the same point.

The arrival of this force at Agua Prieta will fulfill the preliminary of the border police pact made with the United States, which was signed by Gen. Hugh H. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army.

The town of Mexican Naco tonight is a quiet town, populated only by the dead of Carranza's army, buried in shallow graves. The few families which remained sought refuge here tonight.

As the Carranza troops moved out of town, following their cavalry advance guard, which left last night, a squadron of United States cavalry under Major Dade swung into the saddle and kept abreast of the marching Mexicans to see them safely to Agua Prieta.

Three hundred children in arms were brought across the border with the 500 persons, the wounded, the women and the children, who will rejoin the troops at Agua Prieta. They filled nine coaches. Twenty-six cars of merchandise followed them. The evacuation of Mexican Naco is in compliance with the agreement signed by General Calles, General Hill, who is now on his way to Vera Cruz, and Governor Maytorena. Border warfare, it is provided, shall not be conducted so close to the border as to endanger American lives and property.

During the siege of the town, Naco, Ariz., was often under fire, the stray Mexican firing killing five and wounding 40 persons on this side.

The force of 4,700 men here under Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss will be distributed between here and Douglas, until conditions appear to be settled.

Nuevo Laredo to Be Evacuated.
LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 17.—Nuevo Laredo, probably will be evacuated by Carranza's troops, tomorrow, or the next day and the garrison will join the forces which evacuated Monterey at Villadiego, preparatory to marching on Madero.

This announcement was made here tonight by General Vasquez and Luis Gutierrez, who arrived at Nuevo Laredo today, after the retreat from Monterey. Their command is at Villadiego, 50 miles north of Monterey, they said.

Generals Angeles and Raoul Madero, with Villa forces, entered Monterey Saturday according to Carranza's command, and are now there. While rail and wire communication between Nuevo Laredo and Monterey was disrupted, couriers asserted Villa's troops were making rapid progress repairing the railroad and expected to reach Nuevo Laredo Monday.

Five German Steamers Lost in a Fortnight

LONDON, Jan. 17 (Monday).—The Morning Post's Stockholm correspondent writes:

During the last fortnight five German steamers have disappeared in the Baltic or in the North Sea. They were lost to sinking ships.

It is reported that leading merchants of German commerce and shipping companies have collected a fund for relatives of sailors who may have been lost in the German ships.

SITUATION IN POLAND REMAINS UNCHANGED

VIENNA, Jan. 17 (via London).—The office made the following official announcement tonight:

The situation in Poland remains unchanged. On the Danube river the district south of Tarnobrzeg an artillery combat against the enemy has been going on since the beginning of the year.

Work well taken from the 10,000, 10,000 men had not irregularly in open spaces all over the city.

Supplies are now pouring into Avezzano. On Saturday, there were received 25,000 cans of preserves, 100,000 pounds of flour, 100,000 pounds of rice, eight quintals of oil, 100 quintals of sugar and 10 quintals of salt. Whole trainloads of timber also arrived as well as tents for 12,000 people, and materials for illumination.

Recalls War Scenes.

In the midst of this devastation, which reminded correspondents who had been at the battle front of Subasio, after 100 days' bombardment by German and French artillery, are camp fires, around which parties of survivors are cooking army rations which have been distributed to them. They sit shivering in the sharp winter air on this high plateau of the Apennines. An eight-day clock hanging on the only fragment of a wall which remains standing is still striking the hours.

A dozen babies, ready for burial are lying in the square of Avezzano. "In this square," said Captain Venturi, "I saw a father place the bodies of his wife, three sons and three daughters. I think that was the saddest incident I have seen. One little boy stood beside the father as he arranged the bodies. The child seemed not to realize what had happened. This man, terribly afflicted, stares vacantly at those who speak to him. He has not eaten for two days."

Scores of survivors were left starving from outside, although under the walls of Prince Torlonia's granary there were 100,000 bushels of wheat.

Whole Families Killed.

The correspondent of the Associated Press, going about last night with two soldiers bearing torches, came across the bodies of a family of seven, father, mother and five children. There was a ghastly row of more than 100 lying near the splendid villa of Prince Torlonia, in which were found the bodies of 32 domestic and employees on any estate. Neither the prince nor his family was in the great country house which was destroyed.

There were 32 schoolmasters in Avezzano before the earthquake, and only four survived, while only one of the 16 school mistresses is living. All the professors are dead.

Churches with massive walls, the ancient castle of Orsini, new structural steel and brick business blocks, all were leveled by the earthquake, which lasted only 31 seconds. The castle of Orsini was used as a local administrative building. Twelve gendarmes, happened to be in the guard room when the earth rocked. Eleven were killed and the twelfth was seriously injured.

A railway carriage has been transformed into a residence and office for the authorities, who wish to leave all available tents for the survivors. Another car is used as a telegraph office. Valuables already removed from the ruins are estimated to be worth $4,000,000, and it is expected that much more will be discovered as the work continues.

100 Rescued Alive.

Upward of 100 persons were taken alive from the ruins in Avezzano today. Most of them had been given up by their friends and relatives for dead. More than half of those rescued were children under 12 years of age.

One thing that is spurring on the rescue work is the fact that during the Messina disaster three persons were found alive in the ruins of a building 16 days after the earthquake. To the casual observer here, the hope that many persons can be rescued from under the masses of stone seems a faint one, but the workers are keeping the experience at Messina in mind and delving assiduously into the wreckage.

Only One House Standing.

PESCAROLA, Italy, Jan. 17.—In this village, high in the mountains, a short distance northeast of Soriano, the ravages of the earthquake have been severely felt. Many of the houses, which cling to the side of the mountain, were "completely demolished," their location on the precipitous crags rendering their destruction more complete than in the cases of the houses in the valleys. The population, a poor one, is greatly debilitated by the loss of their all.

Throughout the entire town only one house withstood the earthquake. It is feared that the loss of life in Pescaraola has been very great. Two hundred persons of its population of 1,100 are reported to be missing. Here, as everywhere else in the earthquake zone, the people are without shelter and are suffering acutely from the cold.

Tremors Felt at Sorio.

SORIO, Italy, Jan. 17.—Slight earth tremors have not ceased here, and the local authorities declare that a single house in town is safe for occupancy.

WHEN YOU WASH YOUR HAIR DON'T USE SOAP

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very irritating to the hair. It dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is plain Musterole. It is mild and entirely harmless. It cleans the hair and scalp of any dirt or oil, and leaves the hair soft and shiny. You can get it at any drug store, and a few cents will last the whole family for months.

Musterole makes the hair wash water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it keeps the scalp and every particle of dirt, dust and dandruff.

Captain Post, who is directing the work of rescue, has estimated that more than 1,000 victims are buried in the debris.

The church of Santa Rosalia, protectress of the town, was full of worshippers when the first shock occurred. The members of the congregation rushed out, thereby saving their lives, for a moment later a second shock leveled the edifice, destroying everything except a statue of the saint, which was not injured. The peasants believe they were saved by a miracle.

10,000 Homeless in One Town.

ISOLA DEL LIRI, Italy, Jan. 17.—This flourishing manufacturing town to the south of Sorio contains a population of nearly 10,000 persons, all of whom are homeless. There are probably less than 100 dead here as a result of the earthquake. Shelter tents have been provided for some of the homeless and bread and meat is being distributed at several centers in the town.

The twelfth century church of San Domenico, three-quarters of a mile to the north of the town, which occupied a commanding position, is a mere heap of ruins. Through the frame of the main door can be seen, near the high altar, the statue of the patron saint of the church, apparently unharmed. Above the debris in the Church of the Crucifixion, which was entirely destroyed, hangs the undamaged crucifix.

Methodists Aiding.

ROME, Jan. 17.—The Rev. Dr. R. M. Tipler of Syracuse, N. Y., pastor of the American Methodist church here, has organized a committee to aid those suffering from the earthquake. Dr. Tipler himself has gone to the earthquake zone, where he is visiting every affected village possible to distribute aid.

Russian Statement

PETROGRAD, Jan. 17.—The following official statement was issued from general headquarters tonight:

"On the night back of the Lower Volga, we are still making successful progress. On January 16, our advanced parties dislodged the enemy from the village of Budy Shtkovskii."

"On the night back of the Volga, the same day, the enemy delivered a series of fierce attacks against our lines in the region of the village of Goumarin. The German forces included six regiments. After seven successive attacks and a desperate bayonet engagement, the Germans succeeded in capturing only one trench occupied by one of our advanced posts."

"In the other sections we repulsed the enemy and forced them to fall back on their positions. The Germans supported their attacks with a violent artillery fire, employing heavy guns to shatter on the position where the attack was to be inaugurated."

"At the village of Konopitzka the enemy, having approached by sapping to within about 30 yards of our trenches, was met with a storm of land grenades, which checked the movement. Some volunteers, availing themselves of the confusion thus created, hurled grenades into the trench, which the Germans were forced to evacuate."

"In the region to the south of Pinsk (Poland), the enemy opened a violent artillery fire and made three attempts to attack our advanced lines, but were repulsed."

"Our artillerymen silenced an Austrian heavy battery as soon as it discovered the range."

"In Bukovina, our advanced columns captured by storm the Kribitza pass on the Transylvanian frontier, situated on the road from Krimulung to the southern part of Bukovina to Margharos-Siget (northeastern Hungary), and Derg."

Germanic Allies Hold Million as Prisoners of War

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 16.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.

Official reports state that the prisoners of war in Germany and Austria now number 800,000. Of these, 200,000 are in Germany, 100,000 in Austria, 100,000 in Hungary, 100,000 in Italy, 100,000 in the United States, and 100,000 in other countries.

The German official report gives the following figures of prisoners interned in Germany: French, 3,470 officers, 215,300 men; Russians, 3,375 officers, 208,200 men; Belgians, 412 officers, 35,852 men; British, 412 officers, 18,821 men.

These totals do not include prisoners held on board to construction camps, or a portion of those captured in Russia. The Austrian prisoners are estimated at 200,000.

Russia Gets Siege Guns in the U. S.

MEXICO CHOOSES NEW PRESIDENT; GUTIERREZ FLEES

Villa's chief of artillery, he recruited occupied Monterey and was reported tonight as having returned to Mexico City as general Villa with his main army.

Villa and Zapata, Break.
It was said that Villa and Zapata had decided that the time had come for drastic action against the Carranza faction, which was represented in the official convention of military chiefs at Aguascalientes, and later at Mexico City after the Villa split with the Carranza faction. The Carranza element, admittedly, has assumed a hostile attitude to the Villa as well as the Carranza forces.

The report of the departure of Carranza and Villa's army to the capital, abandoning his campaign against the Carranza forces in the east, continued from last night, that some serious hitch had occurred in the Mexican government.

Reports that Carranza, with the main group of the Carranza army, had entered the capital as a deposed authority. His supporters who left the capital on the last train to arrive, here said that Carranza had been reported as moving out toward Mexico City after his taking of Puebla.

General Angeles, Villa's military chief, who heads a strong column, has taken Mexico, according to an official convention report. Details of the fighting, if any, were not known.

Word was received here yesterday of the death Saturday night in Los Angeles of Mrs. Blanche Taylor, sister of Mrs. W. W. Price of this city, and formerly a resident of Colorado Springs. Mrs. Taylor left Colorado Springs 20 years ago and lived in Leadville for several years, where her husband was owner of the Little Johnny mine. The body will be brought to Colorado Springs for interment, but funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Robert E. Kincaid, aged 54 years, died yesterday at his home, 233 South Nevada avenue, after a short illness. He was survived by his wife and two children, who accompanied the body to Stillwell, Ind., yesterday for interment. Mr. Kincaid had lived in Colorado Springs for the last five years.

MANY VIEW SKELTON'S LANDSCAPE PAINTINGS

The Colorado college art gallery in Perkins hall, with its collection of landscape paintings by Leslie J. Skelton, was open for three hours yesterday afternoon, and many persons were present to see the pictures. The usual hours for this exhibition, from 10 to 5 o'clock during the week, have prevented many business men, teachers and students from seeing the pictures before this time, and many are regretting the opportunity offered yesterday afternoon. The exhibition will be kept open several days longer from 10 to 5, as there is a large attendance notwithstanding the fact that it has been open three weeks.

What the Press Agents Say

ZUDORA

At the opera house Monday, the ninth episode of this exciting series, entitled "Zudora," will be shown. The story, some time ago, told of the escape of the Chinese, in which John Storm and the mysterious Jim Baird played a part. The episode, strange as it may seem, is a continuation of the story. Zudora, like everyone else, became interested in the case and determined to solve it, although her uncle, Haskin, who had been mysteriously absent from the house for days at a time.

It was at this time that a certain Madame Duval, the beautiful, but somewhat mysterious woman, who was in the confidence of Chang in episode 8, was introduced to Zudora. Oddly enough, the girl, having been under Chang's hypnotic influence, at the time, did not recall ever having seen her. Feeling a strange attraction for her new acquaintance, Zudora returned her call, although had Jim Baird known of it, the friendship of the two might have awakened some misgivings in his breast, for he evidently distrusts the charming fair one.

During Zudora's visit at Madame Duval's, she was much puzzled at the coming and going of many strange guests, the mysterious conferences held and the frequency with which her hostess was called away. It was during one of these absences that Zudora, idly glancing at a newspaper on the table before her, an item in the personal column caught her eye, and her fertile brain did the rest. Hardly waiting to say good-by to Madame Duval, she set forth on what she believed to be the missing link, Nor is she far off the mark, for the hint she had received from the "personal" leads her to a deserted freight caboose in a little-used railroad siding. Listening at the door, she overhears the kidnappers discussing plans to get their victim in a safer place.

In the meantime, Jim Baird has also been investigating certain clues, which have come into his possession. John Storm, also informed by Zudora, in a hasty note of what she has learned, begins an investigation on his own account. Thus all three are eagerly hunting for the missing heiress. But it is Zudora who first learns the whereabouts of the stolen child. Watching her opportunity, she is about to liberate the little one, when three members of the gang, returning suddenly and finding her, seize both Zudora and their captive, and imprison them in old caboose, where Zudora had first overheard their plans.

Meanwhile, Madame Duval, who has some mysterious connection with the forces that are opposing Zudora, becomes worried at the delay in bringing her plans to a successful issue. Acting under instructions, evidently, the gang are seen placing an infernal machine in a car filled with gunpowder, which is next to the old caboose in which Zudora and the kidnapped child are imprisoned. An engine hook, coming up with the train and slowly moves off, hauling the caboose with it. In a few moments the explosion is certain to take place, and it seems that nothing can save the kidnappers' victims, unable to get out, from being blown to atoms. But it is not to be. Jim Baird, who by some psychological instinct or perhaps because he is never really out of touch with Zudora's doings, always seems to appear at the last moment of Zudora's distress. block before there is a tremendous explosion and the powder car disappears in a great cloud of white smoke.

It is but the work of a moment for Baird to batter in the door of the caboose and assist the frightened Zudora and her helpless companion to the ground. He dashes into the caboose again, hoping to find some evidence against the kidnappers. He has hardly finished his hurried search when there is a sudden explosion.

Down the track comes rushing John Storm, too late to aid his sweetheart and frantic with apprehension. He comes up just in time to see Zudora and her little charge descend from the caboose, and the next instant he holds her close in his arms. When they turn to thank Jim Baird, the man to whose heroism and resourcefulness they owed their rescue, it is to find him gone. He has vanished as utterly as the destroyed powder car.

IN "AFTER THE BALL"

ACTOR COURTS DEATH

Bernard McPhee, a quite unassuming young actor, started not only his friends, but the entire city of New York, including some of the police force, when he jumped from High bridge into the Harlem river, when he hit the water and came up alive. One of the wildest police chases ever performed followed. Boats, hooks, guns and clubs threatened McPhee, but he evaded them all. He was managed to sides of the river, until he was almost exhausted, when he was placed under arrest for attempted suicide. But Judge Krotel, after hearing McPhee's version of the story, released him.

SCENE FROM "AFTER THE BALL"

Opera House, Today and Tuesday.

One hour after his release, McPhee jumped the tail end of a train going to miles up hill, and, pursued by a motorcycle policeman, the race after the train, with the motorcycle bumping over the railroad ties in without question the most startling sensation ever known. The motorcycle cop catches up with the train and jumps from his machine, grasping the railing of the last car. He catches McPhee through the train to the baggage car. At that moment the train is crossing a high bridge which spans the river, and McPhee makes another death-defying leap to the river below. The action causes the spectator to gasp. Newsweek of this day (Jan. 18) has said: "The picture has ever been filmed for motion pictures."

"After the Ball," with Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effie Shannon featured, will be shown at the Opera house today and tomorrow. This story, as suggested by the well-known song, "After the Ball," written by Charles K. Harris.

"SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPAPE"

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," to be presented at the Opera house Monday, February 15, is said to be the biggest success that George M. Cohan has ever written. It is full of fun, thrills and laughs galore. It is a proper expression in describing this wonderful comedy, and will lead all others in popularity. Mr. Cohan again has put to his credit the most amusing play seen here since he gave a grateful public "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford." An announcement of importance is the fact that the cast to appear here is the same identical one that presented this farce in Chicago and New York.

"THE HOUSE OF BONDAGE"

"The House of Bondage," the six-reel photoplay on Reginald Wright Kaufmann's book, made by the Photodrama Motion Picture company, obtained a great success in Columbus, O., because of the strong moral nature of its story. This attracted the notice of many prominent women, social reformers, who spoke of the value of the picture in pointing out dangers which beset the path of thoughtless girls. Columbus was the first city to appropriate the good faith of those responsible for the picture, when it was produced a powerful, clean film with a strong moral. The film will be shown at the Opera house next Friday and Saturday.

"JULIUS CAESAR"

The heavy expense and enormous detail involved in modern motion picture spectacles is well illustrated by the mammoth George Kleine film, "Julius Caesar," which plays at the Opera house January 25-26. Aside from the army of people employed, which reports say, exceeds 20,000 in costume alone, it was necessary to build a miniature city of Rome covering six square blocks. Eight cars of concrete were used in the construction of a Gallic fortress which Caesar's army attacks and destroys; 200 carpenters and stone masons, 80 stage carpenters and their assistants, 20 seamstresses, 12 motion picture directors and two professors of archaeology found employment at one time or another during the 18 months of preparation. When the costumes had all been made, the scenery built and painted, and everything was in readiness, a corps of men were engaged to scour Rome for unemployed men and women to fill the "mob" scenes. These people were hired by the day, and the dominion of a costume meant salary for that day; whether they actually worked or not. Hence, a rain storm or a cloudy sky proved expensive.
